Alchemist Answer Key

The Alchemist Paulo Coelho was born in Rio de Janeiro 1947. He had expressed a passion for writing that his parents despised. He later was enrolled in multiple mental institutes and he managed to escape three times. He was finally released at the age of twenty and he got admitted to law school for his parent's sake. He soon dropped out and engaged in drug abuse and lived like a hippie. He eventually went on a spiritual pilgrimage in Spain which changed his life. He had written the book ...

The Alchemist is a fable about a shepherd boy (named Santiago but referred to as just "the boy" throughout the book) from the Andalusia area of Southern Spain. He lives a simple shepherd life, herding his sheep from place to place, finding them good food to eat and clean water to drink, and occasionally selling their fleece to fill his purse. He is simple and innocent and his needs are few, but he craves excitement and adventure, and he wants to travel and see the world. One day he meets ...

Love, in The Alchemist, is also secondary to pursuing one's Personal Legend. As the alchemist tells Santiago, Santiago's love for Fatima will only survive if he continues living out his Personal Legend so that he will have no regrets later. Despite these facts, which seem to downplay the importance of love, Fatima's kiss serves as the final image of the book, suggesting that love remains ...

The Alchemist is narrated from a third-person omniscient point of view. The unknown narrator of The Alchemist tells the story of the shepherd boy Santiago, his journey, and the individuals he meets along the way. Although focused on Santiago, the third-person point of view reveals many of the thoughts, feelings, and actual words of other characters, particularly Melchizedek, the crystal merchant, as well as the Englishman and the alchemist.
