"An Interest in Life" by Grace Paley. I don't know what to say about this story!! I thought about it, I read criticism about Grace Paley's work—I could not find any criticism about this story specifically—and I still don't know what to say. What I learned about Paley's work through the criticism: She uses various New York dialects, particularly Yiddish, that she heard in her youth ...

Grace Paley was an American short story author, poet, teacher, and political activist. Paley wrote three critically acclaimed collections of short stories, which were compiled in the Pulitzer Prize and National Book Award finalist The Collected Stories in 1994. Her stories hone in on the everyday conflicts and heartbreaks of city life, heavily informed by her childhood in the Bronx. Beyond her work as an author and university professor, Paley was a feminist and anti-war activist ...

Grace Paley - The Collected Stories Farrar, Straus, and Giroux, 1994 The late Grace Paley was a woman filled with life and experiences bursting from every seam. The Collected Stories is praised as a finely polished group of Paley's short stories that let the reader into the small, everyday moments of her life, however the stories did not entirely live up to their reputation.
